GENERAL ORDER NO. 1.

The Battalion Commander feels that in breaking camp to return aboard ship, he cannot miss the opportunity to express to the Battalion his pride and gratification in the splendid support and co-operation of every officer and man of his command.

With such a spirit in the Battalion, nothing would ever be too much for it to accomplish and the Battalion Commander knows that all hands have formed a bond that will last thru-out their entire lives.

In conclusion all honor to our brave mates who gave their lives in upholding the honor of their Country. They now head the honor list of the Arkansas, - a list that will always be an example for the rest of us to try to follow.

INSTRUCTIONS.

BUREAU OF NAVIGATION, NAVY DEPARTMENT.
February 10, 1911.

1. Great care must be exercised in marking men for their professional qualifications and conduct, as these marks, and the recommendations of Commanding Officers regarding Honorable Discharge and Good Conduct Medal, are the guides by which the Department judges of the fitness of men for the service, and for the positions of Petty and Warrant Officers. Columns for recommendations for "Honorable Discharge," "Good Conduct Medal," "Re-enlistment," and "Rating best qualified to fill" will be filled in by the Commanding or the Executive Officer. All men should be marked for professional qualifications, in their respective ratings, on the scale of 0 to 5.

(a) Marks for proficiency in rating for any period of time are to be understood as showing the intelligence and zeal displayed by a man in his performance of all the particular duties of the rating held by him during that time.

(b) Marks for seamanship are to be understood as showing the ability and usefulness of a man in performing all the duties required of a seaman as well as his knowledge of all matters relating to seamanship.

(c) Marks for ordnance are to be understood as showing the proficiency and intelligence of a man in all matters pertaining to the nomenclature, use, and care of guns, mounts, torpedoes, small arms, ammunition, primers, and fuses of every description used in the Navy; the mark for any one quarter being based upon the knowledge retained from instruction given during that quarter.

(d) Marks for signaling are to be understood as showing the ability and intelligence of a man as a signalman, independently of his rating.

(e) The entries in the column "Marksmanship, Small Arms," shall be as provided in the Instructions governing target practice and the use of small arms.

(f, g, h) All men of the artificer class shall be marked on their enlistment records for "mechanical ability;" those of the engineer force to be marked also for "knowledge of marine machinery;" and electricians for "knowledge of electrical machinery and appliances, and ordnance."

2. Commanding officers must pay particular attention to marks for sobriety and obedience and resulting recommendations for Honorable Discharge and Good Conduct Medal, in order that a uniform system of marking conduct may be adopted by which equal weights will be deducted for equally grave offenses and strict justice accorded the enlisted man.

When a mark below 5 is assigned in sobriety or obedience for a quarter in which no offense is shown on the record the cause for such action must be entered in the column of offenses.

3. Should the final recommendations regarding Honorable Discharge and Good Conduct Medal not accord with the record, due weight being given to the recommendations of all other captains under whom the man may have served during his current enlistment, as shown by his enlistment record, the commanding officer must state on the enlistment record clearly and concisely, over his own signature, the reasons for such recommendations.

4. In cases of men reenlisting immediately on board of the vessel from which discharged, an entry showing the original place of enlistment must be made on the enlistment record.

5. On pages 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11 it will be noted that the lines are numbered. These pages take the place of the old form of enlistment record, and the entries at the "end of quarter," "transfer," etc., should be made on the same numbered lines if possible. The commanding officer's signature in the column "Signature of Commanding Officer" is an acknowledgment of all entries between the line on which his signature is placed and the last entry by himself or a previous commanding officer.

6. In the column "Meritorious Conduct, Offenses," etc., page 8, the commanding officer, on the transfer or discharge of a petty officer, first class, or chief petty officer, or upon his own detachment, shall note whether or not the man possesses qualifications for future consideration for appointment as a warrant officer. When petty officers of lower ratings are considered especially well fitted, this same note may be made on their records at the discretion of the commanding officer.

7. On page 12, "Details," note will be made in the proper column of the character of duty performed by the petty officers, with dates at the beginning and completion thereof, especially when regularly detailed in the following cases: Electricians detailed for wireless; gunners' mates for electrical work, battery, or torpedoes and mines; machinists' mates for ordnance or electrical work; quartermasters, whether for ship or signal; yeomen, whether for captain, executive, ordnance officer, navigator, equipment, engineer, or pay department, or in charge of ship's store; and any other detail showing special aptitude, knowledge of which would be valuable to succeeding commanding officers; musicians, note the instrument they play; also when a man is detailed as messman, compartment cleaner, jack-of-the-dust, ice-machine tender, evaporator tender, or other special detail, with period so detailed.

8. No entries and erasures, alterations, or use of ditto marks will be permitted. Should an error be made, a light red-ink line will be drawn through it, the commanding or executive officer entering his initials alongside in ink.

9. The signatures of commanding officers to all final entries on enlistment records closed by discharge, desertion, or death, and to every quarter in which a court-martial or change of rating has occurred, must be written, not stamped.

10. The stubs in the back of the book are for the insertion of the Gunnery Record, Acting and Permanent Appointments (now issued in a new form for use with this new service record). Appointments will be inserted with a view of removal and delivery to the man on his discharge, the perforated line being for detachment.

The Landing at Veracruz: 1914

The events this book recalls took place just a little more than fifty years ago. There seemed little reason then to suspect that a colossal blunder was about to occur; in retrospect, it was a ludicrous, comic episode, all but forgotten now except by those men who might have died in it, and eclipsed by the wars of the Twentieth Century. United States history records no more confused, yet exciting encounter than this first complete chronicle of the capture of Veracruz, Mexico, by the U.S. Navy in April, 1914—and of the near-war situation that evolved.
